

INT. AGENCY EXECUTIVE'S OFFICE - DAY

Toya makes her way to her bosses office.

AGENCY EXECUTIVE

The sticky auditions are down the hall.

TOYA

I work here.

AGENCY EXECUTIVE

Really.

TOYA

You gave me employee of the month.

Toya points to the poorly made plaque on the wall, which then proceeds to fall off the wall and into the trashcan.

AGENCY EXECUTIVE

Well February is almost over anyway. So what can I help you with?

TOYA

It's about the sticky campaign.

AGENCY EXECUTIVE

Ah, one of the greatest campaigns we've ever created.

TOYA

What's the campaign even for?

AGENCY EXECUTIVE

That's client confidentiality.

TOYA

Shouldn't employee`s know what the products are?

AGENCY EXECUTIVE

Well that's a good point. Make sure to put that on your survey.

TOYA

You're firing me?

AGENCY EXECUTIVE

No that would mean paying unemployment. You have been promoted to unpaid intern. Congratulations on behalf of all of us. My assistant will show you your new station.

An employee emerges from the shadows escorting her out of the building and into an alleyway.

ASSISTANT

Please fill out the survey in 3 to 10 business days. Congratulations on your new position. Please refrain from looking for other employment during this transitional period.
(The assistant then proceeds to use a cheap party popper)

TOYA

Can I at least collect my things?

ASSISTANT

Unfortunately that's company property. Also please collect the confetti, that is also company property.

CUT TO: